Frolic away a Saturday at the 'BrocSoc' Fayre...

The 1993 Brockley Society Summer Fayre on 26 June at Hilly Fields promises to be as frolicsome and fun-filled as ever.

Kick-off is at 12 noon, with a celebrity opening followed by the first wacky event of the afternoon: the 'Be An Animal' Fancy Dress competition. Come furred, feathered or scaled - and if you like, bring along your pet to complete the ensemble!

From fancy dress to flower power: the next attraction on the programme is the Best Plant Show, once again kindly sponsored by Phoebe's Garden Centre of Catford. Bring your bloomiest plants, flamboyant flowers and vast vegetables to meet their admiring public in the main arena by 12 noon.

At 2:15pm, under-12 belles should present themselves at the end of the catwalk, dressed to kill, to take part in the Miss Brockley Competition at 2:30pm. The winner gets a photo session by a professional photographer - and who knows, may end up smiling out at mum from the local paper!

At 3:45pm, there's a chance to show us what you're made of in the knobbly

Deputy Mayor and guests at

knees contest; at 4:30pm the prize raffle will take place in the main arena - and in between, there's a host of other competitions and diversions.

The more energetic attractions include donkey rides, swing boats and roundabouts ... but if that sounds a bit vigorous, take refuge in the marquee, where BrocSoc teas, juices and cakes will be on sale and you can sample the wares of the various food stalls, from fish and chips and jacket potatoes to exotic Mexican and Caribbean snacks. As always, the Broc. Soc. Burger and Banger Bar-B-Q will be doing its stuff...

Lots of stalls have already been booked, promising bargains galore. If you'd like to book a stall, pitches are a snip at £10 or £15 for inside the marquee please call 081-469 3975.

Alternatively, if you belong to a group that can sing, dance or entertain, why not grab your chance of stardom, with an entertainment slot in the arena. We'd also love to hear from anyone who could spare an hour or two to lend a hand on the day... please call 081-691 4133 if you'd like to be part of the 'Fayre fun'!

All in all, June 26 looks set to be a fine day out, whatever the weather at Hilly Fields - do come and join us: with your help, it promises to be the best BrocSoc Summer Fayre yet! Nicky

Sylvia's Paper Point Scheme

Several people have recently expressed an interest in setting up a goods and services scheme whereby no money ever changes hands but everyone can earn and spend paper points on skills, goods and services at a set value.

Sylvia is very happy to earn paper points herself by being the administrator of the scheme and she can also offer a limited storage space for a previously agreed period of time. If you're interested in participating in such a scheme please contact Sylvia on 081-692 2769 and give her details of the goods and services you can offer and/or require for the administration records. Once the system has been set up trading can begin and Sylvia would keep a record of everybody's paper points account and make statements of account available on request. ->

Cont'd:- When a service is offered the charge would be paid for in paper points and in normal money if materials have to be bought in from outside the scheme. In this way retailers can be brought into the scheme and eventually people would be able to exchange paper points for goods and services from local retail outlets. This scheme would be especially beneficial to people who have been unemployed for a while and who need to start earning, making contacts and doing some worthwhile work without losing any of their benefits. Rather than undermining the local economy it would improve local conditions by allowing people to become more economically active. The scheme would not undermine the national economy either, the Inland Revenue can claim tax on any activity which is part of person's normal trade, so someone can charge part of their bill in normal money to cover this. It would also mean that the national economy is less burdened by people stuck in welfare traps and by people becoming ill through poverty and stress. To join the scheme or for more information contact Sylvia NOW on 081-692 2769 den, or on THEIR street.

- Isn't it time that the residents of Brockley took a stand on this issue?
- Why isn't there a dog toilet on Hilly Fields?
- Why is the only dog-free zone a tiny shaded area?
- Why are dog faeces even found in the small children's playground?

The answer to these questions are simple. Some dog owners don't care and would rather let their dogs make a mess than take responsibility for their animals. Unfortunately, such people usually don't change of their own free will. Therefore, steps should be taken to ensure dog owners assume responsibility.

- 1. The residents of Brockley should write to the council and demand a dog toilet on Hilly Fields.
- 2. We should demand that at least one half of Hilly Fields be designated dog free. One half! the dog owners are screaming. Yes one half, so that children, may have a safe, clean place to play. At the moment Hilly Fields is fine for DOGS, not for CHILDREN.
- 3. The council should employ a dog warden to issue fines on the spot and make sure people do not let dogs foul the lawns.

If you care about Hilly Fields and our children, write to:

Police Liaison News

Since my last report there have been two meetings of the Lewisham Police/Community Consultative Group and the inaugural meeting of a similar group for the Brockley Sector. At the PCCG we heard of the many invitations taken by the police and the many agencies in the area which aim to divert young people from crime and motivate them on constructive alternatives. There is an Inter-Agency Forum on youth crime co-ordinating these activities. Much of the work of the Police and Probation Services is aimed at the prevention of crime and those policemen not on the beat may well be talking in classrooms or be on other crime prevention schemes.

Annual statistics for the Lewisham Division are as follows:-

	1991	1992	% Change
Violence Against The Person	881	782	-12%
Sexual Offences	92	104	+13%
Street Robbery & Theft Snatch	819	853	+4%
Burglary: Residential	2800	3244	+16%
Non Residential	1238	1273	+3%
Motor Vehicle
(Theft & Theft From)	4208	3932	-6.5%
Total Notifiable Offences (Lewisham)	16,461	17,063	+3.5%
Total Notifiable Offences (3 Area)	144,984	154,998	+7%

3 Area statistics are included for comparison. Lewisham is one of the ten divisions in the area which is the largest of the eight Metropolitan Police Areas. It covers the boroughs of Bexley, Bromley, Greenwich, Lewisham and Southwark with a combined population of over one million.

24 members of the public including 4 councillors, attended the first meeting of the Brockley Sector Working Group in February. Membership would remain flexible for a while as it was thought that those present were not yet fully representative of Brockley. The whole idea of sector policing is to provide closer links between the public and the police. The working group would provide a forum for the exchange of ideas and a starting point for positive action to respond to the fears and concerns of the community as a whole.

Bad Dogs or Bad Owners ?

Everyone knows the problem of dangerous dogs, largely held to be the responsibility of their irresponsible owners, but what about the DIRTY dogs who foul our parks and streets ?

We have all seen perfectly respectable looking people turn a blind eye as their beloved pooch does ITS dirty work on Hilly Fields, then turn a blind eye again as a toddler steps in it.

I wonder how often these irresponsible dog owners have spent half an hour cleaning children's shoes, tricycle tyres and toys after THEIR dog has left its calling card on the public path or lawns.

Are these owners of "man's best friend" aware that dog faeces are the leading cause of non-accidental child BLINDNESS ? I wonder if they can turn a blind eye to that ? Dog faeces may carry a parasite which if ingested attacks the optic nerve, resulting in blindness. Everyone knows how children suck their fingers. The conclusion is easy to see. And it is not just local residents who allow their dogs to foul. Hilly Fields seems to be the dog toilet for South London. How many times have you seen a car pull up on Montague Avenue, open the door and let out some great lumbering pooch which then deposits what the owners obviously do not want in THEIR gar-

It appears that the group which was offered the Library Building for a Muslim Centre has been unable as yet to find the huge sum of money that is required to purchase it. It is likely that the Council will have to think again about the future use of the building, especially as if left empty the security costs will continue to mount. Perhaps they will consider renting it to the Friends of Deptford Library to use for a Community Visual Arts Centre. Even if the building does not realise the capital the Council wants, at least that way it would not be a drain on the revenue, until a secure future is found for it.

small. Close by was the barber's where my brother and I got our hair-cuts on Saturday mornings when the charge was only a penny. Opposite the end of the 'foot-bridge' over the railway was the tiniest grocers shop you ever saw. Next door was the back part of the Brockley Cinema where the noisy generator made the necessary electricity for the cinema. This was the Coulgate St. I remember and visited not so long ago, with my wife, on a 'sentimental journey', when I was able to take quite a good number of photographs.

I don't think any of the family knew about the canal but that is because that was early in the 1800's. Nevertheless it is most interesting and I imagine it was probably the predecessor to the railway cutting.

Hilly Fields Woodland Area

There is an area of Hilly Fields above Eastern Road which is to be used as a Nature Conservation Area. This area of woodland will be securely fenced off to allow it to recover over the summer, and access paths for walkers and wheelchairs will be surfaced. It is hoped that it will be used as a resource for local schools and handicapped groups and also that local people will become involved in its management. Do you want to be involved? If so contact ANITA or MARIE on 690-0185.

without risk of serious disease if this mess is left there by irresponsible dog owners? Can anything be done about it? Perhaps we could have large areas fenced off as dog free zones?

From a walker with messy shoes!

Dear Walker,

This is indeed a serious problem which we hope to resolve after consultation with Lewisham Borough Council and with the co-operation of those dog owners who do not have a responsible attitude towards the rest of the public. Unfortunately, this will probably take some time.

We received this letter from Mr Dowdall of Cornwall, writing about the cottages in Coulgate Street.

Since I was born in Brockley 76 years ago in Drakefell Road and traversed the areas under discussion four times a day to and from the Catholic School, I am naturally interested in the Conservation Area.

In the middle of the row of cottages lived a family named Miller and they were friends of ours. The daughter named May often called on us to look after us four children when we were

Residents of Tyrwhitt Road

Exiting from Tyrwhitt Road into Hillyfields Crescent is a well known local nightmare. The Council's new road markings and signs have been put up as a first step to see if they lead to a reduction in the lunatic behaviour of traffic in the area. If they do not make a significant difference then some other measures will have to be considered.

Measures that have been considered in the past, and which have been eliminated include:

- SLEEPING POLICEMEN cannot be installed because Hillyfields Crescent is a bus route.
- The proposal for a PARTIAL ONE WAY SYSTEM (which would mean traffic could not exit from Tyrwhitt Road into Hillyfields Crescent) was rejected by residents.
- Creating a MINI-ROUNDOABOUT or altering the priorities (i.e. giving priority to traffic emerging from Tyrwhitt Road) would not remove the basic problem of traffic coming round the blind bend of Hillyfields Crescent and encountering traffic emerging from Tyrwhitt Road.

- Putting up a MIRROR for traffic coming along the Crescent would contravene road traffic regulations.

So, what next? If the new road markings do not have a great effect (and realistically, this will probably be the case, despite the Council's best efforts) we will have to come up with some suggestions. The Borough Engineer's view is that the only realistic and viable solution is the partial one-way system. Would residents of Tyrwhitt Road like to think again, or do you have any other ideas? BrocSoc would like to hear from you.

A Larger Conservation Area

After a Public Meeting in March the Council agreed to extend our Conservation Area even farther than was envisaged when we wrote the last newsletter. It now includes all of Coulgate Street and the area around Brockley Station on the west side and all of Hilly Fields, Eastern Road and 62-106 Adelaide Avenue on the south.

This makes the area into a more cohesive whole, but puts more onus on those of us who look after the planning aspect of the C.A. and also means that we need more newsletter deliverers. If you would like to help, come to the next meeting or offer to deliver to your "patch" by phoning SHEILA on 692 9175. We always welcome new active members, (there is no membership fee.)

Does leaving your pet in a kennel leave you cold even spoil the thoughts of your holiday? Even if you don't mind the cost, (which is very high) wouldn't you prefer to have someone you can trust to step in.

I am hoping to start a pet minders club, people who love animals and are prepared to reciprocate with one another for holidays, weekends or even odd days.

If you are interested in joining this club please ring me on 081-692 8795 to join or add your own views and ideas.

Food For Thought

At Goldsmiths' College research has just begun on a three year project investigating what factors influence our choice in food. Some of the questions researchers will be asking local people include: what is 'good' food? How far does the price of food affect what you buy? Are you too busy to cook and eat properly? Do you think that your diet needs changing? How important is 'healthy eating' for you and the people you know? They are not looking for 'correct' answers, rather the researchers want to know what your ideas and concerns are. Why not have your say? The researchers will be in the area soon, or if you would like to know more about the project you can telephone ANNIE KEANE or ANNA WILLETS on 081-692 7171 ext. 2293, or leave a message on ext. 2180.

Brockley 1993 A Historical Record

I would like to make a video or film about Brockley, partly as a historical record and partly to stimulate discussion about the area and how we would like to see it developing in the future. Transport Sub-Committee

The transport sub-committee of BrocSoc is concerned with all types of transport which operates in the Conservation Area itself, and is used by residents in the area. This includes cars, bicycles, shanks' pony, trains and buses. We are prepared to try and do something about any transport issues that might improve life for residents in the Brockley area.

Earlier this year representatives from BrocSoc had a meeting with the Chair of Lewisham Council's Environmental Services Committee, Angela Cornforth, and the Borough Engineer, John Couch. We raised the issues of speeding traffic on Montague Avenue and Upper Brockley Road, the problems of the Tyrwhitt Road/Hilly Fields Crescent junction, and the kerbs at the access road to the new Roundel Close off Adelaide Avenue.

We explained our concerns and they explained the constraints they operate under - not just limited cash, but also the need to allow speedy access for the emergency services, to ensure bus routes are free of sleeping policemen, and that views expressed by other residents are taken into account. The response was encouraging. Within weeks we had:

- New road markings along the centre of Montague Avenue and "slow" markings.
- Road markings on Hilly Fields Crescent before the Tyrwhitt Road junction.
- One lowered kerb on Adelaide Avenue (we will be asking the Council to point out to the developer that what goes down will need to go up the other side...!)

The council has also received representations from the governors of Myatt Garden School in Upper Brockley Road to install some traffic calming measures. This road is an emergency services priority route, so humps and road narrowing measures are not possible. But Upper Brockley Road is on the Council's list for priority action, so something should happen there soon.

Dear Winnie,
I'm having problems with the dustmen, they will not collect my rubbish because I do not have a wheelie bin. The reason is there is no access to wheel it in and out, so what am I expected to do, am I to leave my front path blocked or am I to leave my wheelie bin on the street to cause further hazards to pedestrians? What happened to the days when service was service with a smile?
